

“It’s interesting to sit in our youth group because there are different points of view – different ways we take the Scripture. It’s just awesome to believe in the same God, but to think differently at the same time.”

- Jess Dentler

“One thing that has struck me in reading the Gospels is how little Jesus agrees with me. I had hoped that it would have been different, that we were right in line. But in the Gospels he’s constantly telling me that I must repent, that I must change if he is to be my Lord. And so the impact of the Gospels this year has been powerful.”

- Jim Hardenbrook

“To me the Bible also offers a very helpful disciplining role in my spiritual life and in the spiritual life of those that I know. It helps mark the boundaries about what is edifying and up building according to God, and what isn’t.”

- Jerry Crouse

“I have become concerned when I think we say that we live by the New Testament but we don’t understand what the New Testament says. We need to read the New Testament again and again and to study it with one another in prayer so that we can live by the New Testament and by the teachings of Christ.”

-Harriet Finney, former District Executive and Annual Conference Moderator, North Manchester, IN

POSSIBLE QUESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION

1. What Bible stories have you come to appreciate most?
2. If you had been interviewed for the video, what might you have said about the Bible?
3. How has Scripture made a difference in your life?